BRITAIN'S PLAN FOR REDUCTION OF ARMS OFFERED AT GENEVA

Proposals Designed to Satisfy German Demand for Equality—Would Effect Cuts in Air Forces, Reduce Size of Ships and Abolish Submarines and Larger Tanks

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 17 (AP).—Great Britain made a definite move to bring Germany back into the Disarmament Conference today when Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, submitted to the conference bureau a plan designed to satisfy the German demand for arms equality.

His proposals approached the problem from an entirely different angle from that taken by the French plan submitted last week, but the conferees were hopeful that a combination of the principles of both might provide a basis on which the conference could reunite and proceed toward a disarmament treaty.

Like the French proposal, the British contribution was favorably received. Norman Davis, the United States delegate; Augusto Rosso, from Italy, and the other chief delegates, emphasized especially the necessity for bringing Germany back to the conference table.

The British plan for solving the equality issue rests upon four points. First, it provides for reaffirmation by the European powers of the Kellogg Pact.

Second, the plan provides that "limitation of Germany's armaments should be accomplished by the same disarmament convention, which will define the restrictions on the armaments of others."

Third, "the newly-expressed limitations in the case of Germany would last for the same period and be subject to the same methods of revision as those for all other countries."

The fourth point concerns Germany's request that she be permitted the same kind of arms as the others. This principle, he said, admittedly envisages rearmament to a certain extent.

ON EQUAL FOOTING
The first two conferences laid down the principles of a federated India comprising the provinces of British India and the self-ruling native states. The fundamental principle was the establishment of a large measure of self-government with accompanying safeguards over a transitional period.

The task of the present conference was to speed out the work and fill in the gaps.

Arbital Board Plan Opposed by C.P.R. President

E. W. Beatty Expresses Readiness to Co-operate With C.N.R. but Asks Guarantee for Shareholders if Compelled to Follow Instructions of Proposed Tribunal on Transportation

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP).—The Canadian Pacific Railway, while ready and anxious to co-operate in every possible way with the Canadian National, is determined to oppose the setting up of an arbitral tribunal to compel such co-operation. This attitude was strongly laid down before the Senate committee on railways today by E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Hon. George P. Graham, former Minister of Railways and Canals, is considering the bill introduced by Senator Arthur Meighen, implementing the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Railways and Transportation.

READS STATEMENT
Mr. Beatty today read a comprehensive statement to the committee, setting forth in detail the attitude of the Canadian Pacific, after which he subjected himself to an hour's questioning by the committee. The committee will resume tomorrow.

Consolidation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National for the purposes of administration, was Mr. Beatty's suggestion as an alternative to the present proposal. With a common treasury and common use of all facilities, much could be achieved, he thought. Apart from the fact that the Canadian Pacific is a public utility, he said.

Prince Takes Part In Celebrations and Bangs the Big Drum

Slips Away From Formal Party and Heavy Guards for Little Fun With the Crowd—Finds Time for Golf, Too

BELFAST, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Prince of Wales, who dedicated the new Parliament Buildings at Stormont yesterday, spent this day playing golf on a course several miles from the city, but here in town the people talked of little but an endearing gesture he made last night.

There was a house party at Hillsborough Castle, where he is a guest, but the Prince slipped away from that function with his quarry and one detective. They passed through the guard at the castle gates and strolled on down to the village.

PRINCE AS DRUMMER
A great crowd had assembled in the village square, celebrating the dedication of the new buildings and the presence of the Prince. The booming "lambs," huge gossamer drums which are an important part of this kind of celebration, were making a terrific din.

The white shirt fronts of the visitors gave them away. The Prince was recognized immediately. They cheered him. He seized a pair of drumsticks, belabored one of the great drums and added to the din, happy as any of the rest of the crowd.

For half an hour or so he stayed downtown, then sauntered back to the castle with the crowd at his heels. The guests at the party were crowded around the gate.

SAYS HE'LL BE BACK
The Prince was boosted to the top of the wall for a speech. "My sister told me about the drummers over here," he said, "and warned me not to miss them." "Come back again," the crowd shouted. "Oh, I'll be back," the Prince replied.

This morning, when he set out for the golf links, he was under heavy guard once more. The authorities here have arranged the most elaborate protection for the duration of his visit.

Gov't of France Wins Two Votes

PARIS, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Chamber of Deputies gave two votes of confidence tonight to the Government's agricultural policy.

A motion calling for a committee of inquiry into speculation in the wheat market was rejected, 370 to 190. The Government's recommendation that a national grain office be created was supported, 377 to 112.

ANXIETY NOW RUNNING HIGH

Rebellion Against Federal Government in Honduras Taking Serious Turn

Dispatches arriving from Honduras, some of them delayed for as long as two days, indicate the rebellion against the Federal Government there has taken a more serious turn. The Government's recommendation that a national grain office be created was supported, 377 to 112.

It was officially reported that on Wednesday a strong group of the revolutionary forces took Prespire, fifty miles southwest of Tegucigalpa. The rebel troops attacked the rebels, and after three hours' fighting, the insurgents evacuated Prespire. The number of casualties was not known. The revolutionaries retired toward Nacome.

MEETING
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Nov. 17 (AP).—President Mejia Collado presided over an important Cabinet meeting today, the purpose of which was to agree upon a unified plan of action to cope with the emergency resulting from the rebellion by Liberal elements, who were defeated in the recent presidential election.

President-elect Tiburcio Carias Andino, former President P. Paz Barahona and all Cabinet ministers and under-secretaries attended the meeting.

ARMY IN POSITION
Meanwhile the main body of the rebel army was reported to have taken up a position in the city of Nacome, about sixty miles southwest of Tegucigalpa.

IN STATE OF WAR
TEGUCIGALPA, Nov. 16 (Delayed in Transmission, AP).—Troops were leaving Tegucigalpa hourly today to take the field against rebellious Liberal forces, who have risen against the Federal Government authorities. The authorities were carrying out a hurried mobilization and the whole country was said to be in what amounted to a state of war.

Rebel groups were reported at Talanga, Cedros and Cantarranas, of the rebel forces, mother of the rebellious forces, mother of the rebellious forces, mother of the rebellious forces.

THE GOVERNMENT issued a decree convoking Congress in extraordinary session December 15.

WILL INCREASE DIRECT TRADE

New Service of Steamers to Link Portions of British Empire.

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP).—With the object of increasing direct trade between Canada and certain portions of the British Empire in the Far East as well as the Netherlands East Indies, arrangements have been made by the Department of Trade and Commerce and a group of steamship lines operating between Java and the Atlantic seaboard to provide a monthly steamship service operating between Halifax and Egypt, Ceylon, British Malaya and Java in the Netherlands East Indies.

The new service will be inaugurated this month with the departure of the Ss. Chinese Prince from Java, November 20. She will arrive at Halifax, January 2, after having called en route at Singapore and Ceylon.

Announcement to this effect was made today by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who stated for some time past a careful study has been made of the trade between these countries and Canada. It was found the present trade could be greatly increased if sufficient effort was made in the right direction.

Amy Johnson Almost Certain to Set New Record to Capetown

British Aviatrix Nearing Destination at Last Report and Expected to Better Husband's Time for London-South Africa Flight by Sixteen Hours—Huge Crowd Assembles

WALVIS BAY, Southwest Africa, Nov. 18 (AP).—An airplane flying at a great height in the direction of Capetown passed over Walvis Bay City at 8 a.m. (2 a.m. Eastern standard time). The ship was assumed to be Amy Johnson's "Desert Cloud," out for a record from London to Capetown, but it could not be identified. If it was, Miss Johnson was less than 800 miles from her goal.

READY FOR LANDING
Great excitement prevailed as news spread that the intrepid British aviatrix had taken off from Mossamedes, 1,200 miles up the West coast, at 8 o'clock last night. She was expected to land here between 8 and 10 o'clock this morning, breaking Mollison's record by about sixteen hours.

MISS JOHNSON, if her powers of endurance are not totally exhausted, has a chance of clipping a substantial margin off her husband's record, and no one would estimate it more than Captain Mollison.

There was a temporary threat to the record-breaking attempt when Miss Johnson reached Benguela, 200 miles north of here, earlier today. She was forced down because the engine of her monoplane lost oil pressure, and it was doubtful whether it could be remedied in time to proceed. It was not long, however, before she was in the air again heading southward on almost the last lap of her journey of 6,200 miles. Miss Johnson looked fit and smiling when she reached Benguela after an arduous all-night flight of 1,200 miles through a tropical rainstorm from Duala.

PARACHUTES
Save Four U.S. Flyers

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP).—One United States Marine Corps flyer was injured and three escaped unscathed today in a collision between two fighting planes at an elevation of 7,000 feet.

Piloted by First Lieutenant Albert D. Cooley and Second Lieutenant E. C. Dyer, the planes were engaged in a simulated aerial combat when the collision occurred.

The men jumped with their parachutes and landed safely near the inland highway, twenty-five miles north of here.

Would Demand Big Area From U.S. for Share in Waterway

Quebec Chamber of Commerce Suggests Transfer of Maine, New Hampshire and Part of Vermont for Canadian Co-operation

ST. JOHN'S, Que., Nov. 17 (CP).—The northern portion of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine States should be given to Canada in return for Canadian co-operation if the St. Lawrence waterways is constructed, stated a resolution unanimously adopted tonight by the Chamber de Commerce here.

The resolution, proposed by Stanislaus Poulin, K.C., read: "That the St. Johns Chamber de Commerce requests the Federal Government to add to the St. Lawrence River canalization past the following: In exchange for what the United States is receiving from Canada in the former Canadian section of the St. Lawrence River, that the United States give this country that section of the country north of latitude 45, situated in the United States of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine."

SECOND RECOMMENDATION
The suggestion of the St. Johns chamber is the second time this week that transfer of territory between the two countries has been recommended.

Peter O. Ten Eyck, president of the New York State Waterways Association, addressing a senatorial investigation into the St. Lawrence waterways project at Washington, made the suggestion that Great Britain should pay her war debts by handing to the United States all Canadian territory south of the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Ten Eyck was thus suggesting the transfer, complete, of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, as well as a large section of Quebec.

JAILED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT
SEATTLE, Nov. 17 (AP).—E. R. Thomas, veteran Seattle real estate man, was sentenced to from five to ten years in the State penitentiary today on his conviction of misappropriating $1,500 of his clients' money. He had been in business here more than twenty years.

VON PAPAN AND CABINET RESIGN

German President Seeking New Chancellor—Must Continue Foreign Policy

BERLIN, Nov. 17 (AP).—Chancellor Franz von Papen, who had directed the German Government for a little less than six months, resigned today, taking his whole Cabinet out with him, in the face of almost unanimous opposition in the new Reichstag.

He goes out to make room for others in an effort to realize President von Hindenburg's desire for a "national concentration," appointed by and primarily responsible to the President but supported or at least tolerated by a majority of the Reichstag.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATIONS
The President accepted the resignations. His first move probably will be to appeal personally to the several party leaders. The next few days will show whether he can find a man who can command both his confidence and that of the Parliament.

Such an appointee must agree to continue Germany's foreign policy as it is conducted at present and to carry out at least that portion of Chancellor von Papen's economic programme designed to reduce unemployment.

SCHNEE SUGGESTED
The political gossip has been busy for the past few days selecting Chancellors and Cabinet members. The name of Heinrich Schnee, who spent years in the colonial service and who was the German member of the Lytton Commission to Manchuria, is frequently mentioned. He resigned from the People's Party not long ago, urging that Hitler's National Socialists be given an opportunity to participate in the government.

NONAGGRESSION
PACT PUBLISHED
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 17 (AP).—The Government published today the text of a pact of nonaggression and conciliation submitted some time ago to all South American nations. It is based upon the Kellogg-Brand pact.

The signatories would unite in condemnation of aggressive war and would promise to refrain from the use of force to settle territorial disputes, and would not recognize territorial changes resulting from the use of force.

The agreement would create an international board of conciliation to which signatories would submit disputes which they were unable to solve between themselves.

ENTANGLED ON BARBED WIRE

Tariff Item Proves Difficult Snag in Debate on Treaty Clauses

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (CP).—The House of Commons became entangled on barbed wire today and night in the debate on the proposed Anglo-Canadian Trade Treaty.

A 10 per cent tariff against foreign barbed wire aroused the ire of Western Liberals and Progressives. They charged it would boost prices to much-harassed farmers at a time when efforts should be focused on reducing production costs.

DUMPING LARGE AMOUNTS
German and Dutch manufacturers of barbed wire, said Premier R. B. Bennett, "have resolved to destroy" the Canadian industry, dumping large quantities in this country, demoralizing prices. The tariff increase was designed to curb the dumping, giving Canadian manufacturers reasonable protection. He doubted if there would be any material increase in prices.

Finally the wire item passed, but another obstacle lay ahead, 25 per cent tariffs against foreign cream separators drew more fire than the barbed wire in a much shorter period of time. Once again Opposition members said the tariff increase would raise prices to the farmers.

CAN SUPPLY MARKET
The United Kingdom would continue to have free entry for cream separators, said Hon. Harry Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. Manufacturers in that country had assured him they could supply the Canadian market without increasing prices.

BEET CROP FIRST
Payment Million
CHATHAM, Ont., Nov. 17 (AP).—Sugar beet growers have this week received close to $1,000,000 as the initial payment on the 1932 crop, according to an official of the Canada & Dominion Sugar Co. of this city. A similar amount will be paid to the farmers December 15.

About 325,000 tons of beets have been delivered to the factories of the company, located at Chatham and Wallaceburg, and there are in the neighborhood of 25,000 tons yet to be delivered.

LADYSMITH, Nov. 17.—At the regular council meeting here last evening Ladysmith's opportunities of becoming a modern smelter site were discussed, and the Mayor reported he had asked the member, Hon. C. F. Davis, to advance the city's cause before the Minister of Mines at Victoria, if the subject of a smelter location for the Coast were being considered.

He had later received a report that the subject of a smelter had not been seriously considered by the Government at the present time, since the matter was obviously the affair of the copper producers themselves. Probably the Dominion Government had a secondary interest in the establishment of a Coast smelter, but so far as the Provincial Government is concerned, any project of the kind requiring a subsidy could not possibly be considered.

The council endorsed the Mayor's efforts, and adjournment was taken to the general expression that Ladysmith would continue the campaign to become the location for the Coast smelter.

Five Boys Spanked By Parents Backed At Law's Request

One Victoria and Four Kamloops Youths Soundly Strapped as Alternative to Heavy Fines for Beer Infractions—Adventures Deflated

"PARENTS must be cruel to be kind, at times," said an unnamed spokesman for the Attorney-General's Department yesterday, in commenting on the spanking episode in which five boys were soundly paddled by their parents for misdemeanors which fell under police notice. In each case the parents consented to the spanking, and attended to the details, carried out in a workmanlike manner.

The old-fashioned remedy fell on four youths at Kamloops and one at Victoria, all under nineteen years of age.

In the Kamloops episode, four youths under legal age entered a beer parlor, went driving later with the close of which period the old-fashioned remedy was applied by their parents, under police supervision. The girl was detained for a week further and then released, unspanked.

VICTORIA BOY STRAPPED

In the Victoria case, a youth fell foul of the law in connection with the drinking of a minor and was soundly strapped Wednesday evening by his father, the police station taking the place of the woodshed. In all five cases the parents thanked the police for advancing the suggestion, together with any moral support needed to carry it into effect.

In cases where parents are unable to attend to the details themselves, officials of the Attorney-General's Department declare, the police can be asked to act in a friendly capacity at the request of the parents.

Much of the petty misdemeanors that take place at the hands of minors come from that boyish big-feeling which associates adventure with entry on forbidden ground, as in the case of a beer parlor. A lot of the glamour dies when the adventurer is treated to a sound but homely spanking. The police have no power to do this unasked, but can do so as the next friend of the parents if so requested.

If, however, the correction came at home in the proper way and at the right time, there is no need for many of the trials affecting the misdemeanors of minors, the authorities are convinced.

SUGGESTED REMEDY

Rather than fine boys who have little money, and who are sometimes supporting their parents, a high-up authority in the department informally advanced the spanking suggestion, which sent five families into shirt-sleeve action this week with results that were satisfactory, or so they told the police.

It is admitted that the police have no right to spank anybody, unless so ordered by the courts. Parents have that right, however, and where they cannot carry it out themselves, can always apply for help on a friendly basis.

The only official connection of the Attorney-General's Department with the matter was concurrence in the remission of fines where parental chastisement took place. The spankings, incidentally, save the taxpayers a lot of money, and the parents of the spanked a tidy sum in fines they would have had to put up otherwise. No youth, also, will boast about being taken down and paddled in the presence of others.

CITY ELECTORS HEAR SPEECHES

Large Crowd Listens to Election Addresses by Candidates

Candidates for seats on the City Council of 1933 addressed a largely attended meeting of ratepayers in the auditorium of Sir James Douglas School last night. Each candidate appearing on the platform was given a five-minute period in which to make his appeal to the electors, after which E. B. Andrews, candidate for the mayoralty, gave an address.

Addresses were given by the candidates in the following order:

ARTHUR HINDER
Arthur Hinder, candidate for City Council, was the first on the list to speak. He urged the fullest cooperation between all departments of civic administration so as to insure the highest possible standard of efficiency. He urged an early investigation into the whole of Victoria's waterworks system in order to ascertain where savings may be made. He suggested there might be a "nigger in the woodpile." His main object, if elected, would be to strive for lower taxation.

JOHN HARVEY
John Harvey, aldermanic candidate, addressed the meeting. He declared he was ready and willing to give his services and experience to the city of Victoria. He said he wished to give aid to the wage earners in taxation within our income. He urged an early investigation into the whole of Victoria's waterworks system in order to ascertain where savings may be made. He suggested there might be a "nigger in the woodpile." His main object, if elected, would be to strive for lower taxation.

MRS. ALICE MCGREGOR
Mrs. Alice McGregor, candidate for the council, asked that she be given a chance to show how women could do to assist in civic management. She referred to the large number of women in Victoria who are property owners and their need of representation on the council. "Lack of vision is one of the failings of those in power at the City Hall," Mrs. McGregor stated. "We must keep well within our income and be more careful with expenditures."

ISOLATION OF CAMPS REMOVED

Telephone Connection With Outside Is Now Attainable in British Columbia

For the first time in British Columbia, an almost isolated logging outfit has been given long-distance telephone service by means of a radio hook-up, which links it with the long-distance system of the B.C. Telephone Company. This service is now being given to the floating logging camp of Earle & Brown Timber Co., Ltd., anchored against the shore of Claydon Bay, off Grappler Sound, about 200 miles up the coast from Vancouver.

The voice leaps by radio across a 100-mile gap to Campbell River, Vancouver Island, where connection is made with the B.C. Telephone Company's long-distance network. The service was established as the result of experiments by the Northwest Telephone Company, an associate of the B.C. Telephone Company. The equipment at Claydon Bay has been supplied by the Canadian Marconi Company.

Radiotelephone equipment is installed in the floating office at Claydon Bay. It enables the camp to carry on ordinary telephone conversations with the logging company's Vancouver office.

A striking example of the value of the new service occurred recently when the main drum of a donkey engine at the logging camp pulled out. By means of the telephone it was possible to order repair parts quickly, and a week's time was saved in getting the machinery back in service again. To get a mailed reply to a letter sent from Vancouver to Claydon Bay takes twelve days, because the weekly steamer does not stop there long enough to enable letters to be answered by return boat.

Mr. Wakeman is a candidate for the City Council. He said the main object of a council was to function for the good of all citizens. He stated he was an independent candidate who would not be influenced by the Publicity Bureau should be abolished entirely and the question of further grants be decided by the electors," Mr. McMillan stated.

C. H. MCMILLAN
Cunningham H. McMillan, seeking election to the council, advocated a better understanding of the financial problems of the city which is not, he said, possessed by the present mayor and council. He favors a readjustment of water rates with the adjoining municipalities. The Publicity Bureau should be abolished entirely and the question of further grants be decided by the electors," Mr. McMillan stated.

FRANK CROWHURST
Frank Crowhurst, aldermanic candidate, asserted there were many problems to be faced and they needed careful attention in order to see that there would not be any further increases in taxation. "We need men of experience. I have had experience in Windsor, England, and also in British Columbia," He promised to devote his full time and energy in the interests of the citizens and ratepayers.

ALD. R. T. WILLIAMS
Alderman R. T. Williams, seeking re-election to the City Council, urged that the publicity grant be saved this year as a means to lower the tax rate. He asked the audience to remember Seymour Narrows and what it meant to Victoria. "I am going to get you sweepstakes if I die in the attempt. We will save four mills at one shot by providing for our hospitals," Alderman Williams stated, amid continued applause.

SUPPORTS LEAGUE OF NATION'S WORK

Colonel R. H. Campbell Says Body Is Beginning of Strong and Just World Government

Members of Fairfield United Church Men's Club enjoyed a delightful programme of musical selections and an address by Colonel R. H. Campbell at a meeting held in the church on Wednesday evening.

Supper was provided by an appointed committee and "cello solos" were offered by A. Benn, accompanied by Major Harry Watt.

Colonel Campbell spoke on "Pacifism and Peace," opening his address with clear definitions of the terms "militarism" and "pacifism," condemning the extremes and asserting that peace lay between them. He claimed there was no militarism in Canada in the extreme sense and made particular attention to extreme pacifism, which he said was rampant in the Dominion and constituted a danger to the cause of peace.

The speaker denounced attempts to defame the characters and belittle achievements of men who gave their lives in the Great War, upholding patriotism and nationalism as wholesome and beneficial.

JUST GOVERNMENT
Colonel Campbell did not think that disarmament was a complete cure for war, asserting that it was necessary to go deeper than armament and strike at war itself to prevent it. War, he said, can only be prevented by establishment of strong and just administration, adding that this was being accomplished in well governed countries. He advocated the establishment of a strong and just world government, claiming that the League of Nations was the beginning of such a body.

In conclusion he urged wholehearted support of the League and its work, declaring that if it should fall in its task, the result would be future wars more destructive than the last.

A vote of thanks was accorded the speaker for his instructive address.

CITY TAKES DUAL ACTION

Will Appeal Assessment Decision and Seek Amending Legislation

Dual action was taken by the City Council, at its special meeting yesterday morning, to protect the assessment rolls against an inundation of appeals by property holders.

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle was instructed to appeal from the decision rendered by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, in Supreme Court, in connection with the assessment on the St. Louis College.

The council also passed a resolution urging the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to apply to the Legislature for an amendment to the Municipal Act clarifying the words, "actual value," as they apply to municipal assessments.

Importance of the decision rendered in the St. Louis College case, in so far as the City Council is concerned, is revealed in the following motion, which was passed:

IMPORTANT MOTION
"Whereas the judgment of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald shows that the words, 'actual value,' in Section 212 of the Municipal Act, are ambiguous and uncertain in their meaning;

"And whereas the said judgment, if upheld, would affect the assessment of all buildings in the city of Victoria as well as throughout all municipalities in British Columbia;

"And whereas it is in the interests of all municipalities of this province that the meaning of the said words be clarified by amending legislation;

"Be it resolved that the Mayor and the City Solicitor be instructed to immediately request the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to apply for such amending legislation at the next session of the Legislature as may be necessary to clarify the meaning of the words, 'actual value,' in Section 212 of the Municipal Act."

MINISTERS TO HOLD RETREAT

Various Communions Will Unite for Day of Fellowship and Devotions

REV. G. A. REYNOLDS
president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, who is a member of the committee of arrangements for the ministers' retreat, which will be held on November 29 in St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak.

With the object of deepening the spiritual life and of increasing the spirit of fellowship among the leaders of the various communions, the Christian ministers of Victoria and Vancouver Island will hold a day of conference and quiet on Tuesday, November 29, in St. Michael's Church and Hall, Royal Oak.

The general order of the day's programme will be a series of addresses, which will be interspersed with hymns, devotional exercises and silent periods. The morning session will open at 10.30 o'clock, and the afternoon will close at 5, the whole company meeting at lunch, to be followed by an hour of relaxation.

The Oxford Group Movement will be the subject for discussion in the forenoon. This will be introduced by Dean Quinton and will be followed by conference on this interesting religious manifestation. The discussion will have the greater significance because of the possible visit to Victoria of some of its leaders.

DEVOTIONAL PERIOD
From 2 to 5 o'clock the members of the conference will devote themselves to a devotional period, which will be conducted by Rev. F. M. Wilkinson, rector of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver. These will be in the nature of "quiet hours," with brief addresses, hymns and prayers, as well as times of silence.

Special interest is being taken in the projected retreat in that this will be the first occasion in which all Christian ministers of Victoria and the Island are invited to participate. Such retreats are being held in increasing number throughout Canada and Great Britain, but they have been generally confined to members of one denomination.

The committee of arrangement consists of Rev. G. A. Reynolds, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association; Rev. F. Comley, vice-president; Bishop Schofield, and Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle, who is secretary.

SHOW RESPECT FOR MEMORY OF MEMBER

At the meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday, Percy Marchant paid an appropriate eulogy to the services of the late Wallace S. Terry as a citizen and as a member of the Rotary Club. The elements that made for good citizenship and a worthy Rotarian were passed on by Mr. Terry, he said, in a superlative degree.

Mr. Marchant moved a motion of regret at Mr. Terry's passing and of sympathy with his relatives. The adoption of the resolution was attended with a standing vote, the members marking their respect by silence for a minute's time.

FORMER BANKER LOSES FREEDOM

Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus Refused to Charles E. Walters

Charles E. Walters, former Washington state banker and president of the Bankers' Holding Corporation, at one time capitalized at around $3,000,000, lost his fight for freedom in the Supreme Court of British Columbia here, yesterday, when Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald refused an application for a writ of habeas corpus filed by his counsel, Stuart Henderson.

Walters was ordered extradited to the United States to stand trial on a charge of grand larceny by Judge Peter S. Lampman, in County Court here, last month, following a hearing of evidence to support a charge preferred against Walters by the authorities of the State of Washington.

GOES TO OAKALLA

The former banker was present in court yesterday morning to hear the proceedings, and immediately after the decision of the court, he was taken back to police headquarters, where he remained until taken aboard the afternoon boat for Vancouver and Oakalla prison. Walters will remain in custody at Oakalla until a formal request is made for his return to the American authorities.

The application presented to the Supreme Court judge yesterday was supported by an affidavit of Charles E. Walters, who alleged irregularities in his arrest, wrongful detention and other legal technicalities. Mr. Henderson recited a number of authorities in support of his application, but were successfully contradicted by C. L. Harrison, counsel for the State of Washington.

DISMISSES APPLICATION
Mr. Justice McDonald said he was satisfied that the argument had been well developed, but he was satisfied to take the decisions of the late Chief Justice Hunter and Mr. Justice Duff in connection with the arrest of Walters on telegraphic information, and accordingly dismissed the application.

Ralph W. Walters, son of the former banker, is now before Judge Lampman opposing extradition. This hearing is scheduled to continue today. Both Walters were apprehended in September, and they have been before the courts since then. The charge against them in the United States is that they obtained a sum of money, allegedly $24,500, from one, Mertoy J. Moses, by the sale of stock in the Bankers' Holding Corporation. Mr. Moses alleges false pretences.

GIVES ADDRESS ON CONTRACTING

Walter Luney Tells Interesting Facts Connected With Some of Local Buildings

Walter Luney addressed the Rotary Club yesterday on the subject of "General Contracting," which, he said, included everything connected with the construction of any building, from the excavating to the completion of it. In this connection he pointed out that many who had work to be carried out made the mistake of conceiving the idea that a contractor could carry out the undertakings with no plan to go by. This was not possible. He advised the placing of the undertaking in the hands of an architect to properly prepare the specifications so that the contractor would know just what was included in the job.

Mr. Luney recalled some of his experiences in the preparing of the foundations for a number of main blocks in the city and the troubles that were sometimes encountered with the methods resorted to in order to overcome the difficulties.

In this connection he referred to the long span in the Royal Victoria Theatre by which the gallery was carried over a sixty-four-foot span. This had been designed to carry thirty tons. Before the contract was completed, it had been subjected to a test by which sixty tons weight was placed on it, twice as great as the requirements.

The deflection under this severe test was only one-hundredth of an inch, which was practically nothing. The speaker said that under these circumstances there need be no fear on the part of anyone that the gallery of the theatre would under any conditions collapse.

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Chamberlain, who passed away on November 12, was held yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of friends. Rev. J. S. Patterson conducted the service. The remains were forwarded to Seattle for cremation.

TO FIGHT COLDS SAFELY use a SAFE mouth wash

Listerine kills germs yet does not irritate tissue

Millions of germs breeding in the mouth and throat are responsible for sore throat, colds, bronchitis, and pneumonia.

You do not need to be told that it's wise to use a mouth wash to kill these germs—but make sure that the mouth wash you use does not irritate tender tissue.

When harsh, superpowerful mouth washes irritate tissue, they encourage germ growth and infection instead of retarding them.

As an aid in fighting colds, rely on Listerine and Listerine only. While it kills germs, it does not irritate tissue. Millions have proved its swift germicidal action and have welcomed its bland, pleasant effect. Actual tests have shown that it reduces bacteria on mouth surfaces as much as 99%.

Choose Mouth Washes Carefully—Some watered—Others dangerous

Of 203 mouth washes submitted to laboratory examination, 94 were non-antiseptic, 107 could not kill germs in 3 minutes, 143 could not kill in one minute, others were so harsh they were dangerous to tissue, dozens had no deodorant effect whatever.

THE SAFE ANTISEPTIC

gargle LISTERINE twice a day

PRODUCED IN CANADA

As an aid in preventing colds, full strength Listerine should be used twice a day at least. When you feel a cold coming on, increase the frequency of the gargle. It often checks the development of a cold and keeps it from becoming serious.

Experiments have shown that those who gargled with full strength Listerine twice a day, contracted fewer colds than those who did not gargle with it. Moreover, their colds were of shorter duration and were less severe.

Ask for Listerine. Though inferior mouth washes may cost a few pennies less, there may be danger or doubt connected with their use. Listerine's results and safety are positive matters of record.

Blooms of Shaggy Beauty to Be Shown

At the annual chrysanthemum show to be held at the Empress Hotel tomorrow and Sunday afternoon some of the handsomest specimens ever reared by the head gardener, F. A. Saunders, one of Victoria's most skillful horticulturists, will be admirably displayed in the ballroom.

The main part of the display will be staged around the platform at the east end of the hall, banking the front of the stage and forming a half-moon of magnificent bloom which will include specimens of the incurve Japanese types, the shaggy "mop" types, swirl types, singles, anemones and others.

One of the few new varieties to be shown is "Mrs. Engel," a beautiful yellow incurve Japanese, but among the favorites will be the "William Davis," the yellow pocket; "Durkin," a white mop; "Louis Pocket," an exquisite bloom which is like white flushed with pink; the shaggy white "Lord Hopetoun," the bronze-wine "Hon. J. R. Mann," the swirl yellow "Mrs. J. W. Wigg," and the incurve Japanese with green-yellow centre, "Chesnut White." In games and dancing were enjoyed after the routine business meeting.

All A.Y.P.A. members are asked to note that the dance to be held on Friday, November 25, by the St. Alban's Association will take place at the Campbell Building—not in the New Thought Temple, as previously announced.

The regular meeting of St. Alban's A.Y.P.A. was held on Tuesday, with the president, Mr. George Bridges, in the chair, when final arrangements for the dance were made. The local council minutes were read, and the attendance contest and A.Y.P.A. concert were discussed.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 29, at 8 o'clock, in the church hall. Mr. S. C. Hawkins will be present, and all members are asked to attend.

ARRANGE P.T.A. DANCE

Final arrangements for the Mount View High School Parent-Teacher Association dance to be held in the school auditorium tonight, were made at a meeting of the association last night when those in charge announced they anticipated a large attendance.

ELECTION MEETING IS BEING ARRANGED

All candidates in the forthcoming civic election will be afforded an opportunity of being introduced to the public and outlining their platform in the City Temple auditorium next Wednesday night.

The midweek lecture period will be given over to those seeking municipal offices and a number have already signified their intention of being present. Rev. Dr. Clem Davies will act as chairman, introducing the various candidates, and a way is thus provided for electors desiring to see and hear the candidates to meet those nominated at this special meeting where nearly all of them will be present.

MUSIC will be provided one-half hour preceding the public meeting, which follows at 8:15 o'clock.

He-It will be ages before we have paid for this furniture. She-Yes, but it will be worth more than—genuine antiques.—En Rolig Half Timma, Göteborg

PLAYS HOSTS TO CHOIR MEMBERS

Board of Directors of Metropolitan Church Gives Enjoyable Banquet

Members of the board of directors of Metropolitan Church and their wives were hosts last evening to the church choir and those taking part in the recent presentation of the "Creation." Albert M. Sullivan was master of ceremonies.

As a token of the appreciation for the part they played in Handel's "Creation," Mrs. Paul Green, Mrs. H. Johns, Frank Tappan, Dr. Johns, Fraser Lister and Edward Parsons were presented with leather-bound copies of this famous work, engraved in gold. Mrs. Morton, president of the choir, made the presentations.

The entertainment in the main was provided by the various members of the board, who sang duets, quartets and solos to the accompaniment of the guitar, played by Rev. E. F. Churche. Mrs. Harold Campbell contributed four vocal solos to the programme.

Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. W. J. Pendray and Hugh McDonald. These two prominent members of the church recently celebrated their eighty-first and eighty-eighth birthdays, respectively.

CONTRACTOR WINS

Judgment for the plaintiff was the decision of a special jury which yesterday heard evidence of an action of Sidney Coxworth, contractor, against Herbert Mothershead, 410 Burnside Road, and Ella M. Beane, before Judge Peter S. Lampman, in County Court here. The action was one involving the cost of raising a home occupied by Mr. Mothershead and a counter-claim by the defendants for alleged damages to interior in raising operations. Evidence of contractors was given, and the jury viewed the premises at the lunch hour. The hearing lasted all day. Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff and W. T. Strath for the defendants.

RELIGION IN RUSSIA

Sir,—There is much to be said in favor of the view expressed by your correspondent, Mr. A. B. Sanders, in his recent well-written letter on religion or no religion in Russia.

Religion to be of any value to a people must go hand in hand with knowledge; the spiritual developed at the expense of the intellectual in man truly constitutes a dark age, and no doubt that has for long been the case of the masses in Russia under the long reign of absolutism, political as well as ecclesiastical.

The movement, now commenced by the Soviet, however, is likely to go to the other extreme, exactly as the reaction from intolerable tyranny carried the French people to denial of all things spiritual during and after the French Revolution.

Although the Dark Ages were also notoriously the age of faith triumph, as Mr. Sanders puts it, yet at the present stage of evolution, knowledge, however erudite and extensive, needs to be supplemented by faith. Omniscience is still a long way off, and had the soul not faith in its ultimate and glorious goal could it then hope to reach it?

As established religion is inseparable from religious dogmas, it is difficult to see how any religious teaching could be given under such prohibitive rule as mentioned, though the less one has to unlearn or mentally dispose of later in life the better the chances for a clear grasp of truth.

In like manner, belief in religious mythology has been a stumbling block to many, and the reason is not hard to see. With its tendency to a material and concrete view of things, the modern mind is puzzled and perplexed when confronted with the teaching which all ancient people and nations of any importance handed down to posterity, cloaked and concealed in myth, some pretty, some grotesque. That we fail to make either heads or tails of them is not the fault of the sage who created such a myth as the best possible conveyor of some universal truth, but rather our unhappy way of instating upon a literal interpretation of our Scriptures and other inherited treasures.

We can but hope and pray that conditions in that unhappy country shall right themselves in time and that the soil there, now undergoing the ordeal and upheaval of cleansing and preparation, shall again be fit to receive the living seed to bear fruit as a strong, happy and enlightened people, a worthy brother amongst all nations.

Of foreigners who fail to understand English in the police court, a correspondent tells the following tale:

"Pay one pound," said the magistrate. The Chinaman preserved a brick-wall countenance. "You have to pay one pound," said the clerk. Still the brick wall.

"You've have to pay one pound," said the warder. The Chinaman regarded him with the gaze of an oyster. Then up rose the prosecuting counsel. "Look here, Li," said he, "the magistrate says you've got to pay two pounds!" "No fear," shouted the Chinaman. "He only say one pound!"

"Milestones of Modes" To Be Presented Here

Spectacular Pageant Will Be Produced in Aid of Young Women's Christian Association—Prominent Victorians to Take Part

"Milestones of Modes and Melodies" is the title of a pageant to be produced by Mrs. Guy Goddard at the Shrine Auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 16 and 17, in aid of the Young Women's Christian Association. Those who saw the pageant of shawls last year will remember its great attraction, and it is expected that this venture will be crowned by equal success.

No effort is being spared to make every detail of dress through the ages as characteristic and correct as possible, and some exceptionally fine talent has been secured for the music. The production will present the fashions and favorite melodies of the past century and will also show the emancipation of women through the various movements for freedom.

Mme. Eva Baird, as musical director, is arranging the selections, which will be interspersed through each scene, typical of a decade. The conveners of the groups are as follows: 1830 to 1840, Mrs. Sydney Barker; crinoline period, 1850, Miss Dorothy Merrick; 1860, Mrs. E. C. Hayward; Empress Eugenie period and Victorian era; 1870, Mrs. F. G. Aldous; introduction of women's club movement; 1880, Beaux-Arts Club, Suffragette workers; 1890,

"The Gay Nineties," Miss Vivien Coombe; 1900, Gibson and Christie Girls and "The Merry Widow," Miss Norma Macdonald; 1914 to 1918, farmette girls, Red Cross workers and V.A.D. nurse, Miss Jean McLaren and Mrs. Alan Gardner; 1920, Mrs. T. Hammond, postwar period and the "flapper" era; 1930, Miss Elsie Michaels and Mrs. Otto Weller, the modern girl of today in her various activities, with up-to-date musical interpretations.

Tickets are now being sold at a nominal price, and arrangements have been made to provide reserved seats at a small additional charge when the seat sale opens at Fletcher Bros., on December 14.

A successful card party and dance was held recently at the Belvedere Hotel in aid of the Catholic Mission Church. Nine tables were in play. Rev. Father Gaudette presented prizes to the winners: First table, Mrs. Grainger, Miss May Williams, Messrs. H. Page and E. Gray; second, Mrs. N. Milligan, Mr. C. T. Muir; consolation, Mrs. F. Thorner, Mrs. L. Gettle, Mrs. G. A. Acreman and Mr. G. Turner.

Visitors from the city and surrounding districts enjoyed dancing to the strains of a six-piece orchestra. Piano accordion solos played by Rev. Father Gaudette were particularly enjoyed.

Miss Stokes Married to Mr. W. Carey

A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stokes, "Linwood," North Quadra Street, when the only daughter, Lilian, became the bride of Mr. William Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carey, Hillside Avenue. Rev. A. deB. Owen officiated in the presence of a large gathering of friends of the bride and groom. During the ceremony, the young couple stood beneath a beautifully decorated arch and the house was arranged with chrysanthemums and roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in her wedding gown of ivory satin, made on long princess lines, and her embroidered net veil was arranged cap shape and held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was composed of roses and pink carnations. Miss Alice Maddara, as bridesmaid, wore a becoming frock of blue crepe de Chine, with a mohair hat to match, and her bouquet was of pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. Walter Cuit was the best man.

RECEPTION HELD
Mrs. Stokes, mother of the bride, wore a smart two-piece ensemble of black with trimming of beige crepe, and a black hat. Her corsage bouquet was of deep rose carnations.

Mrs. Carey, mother of the groom, chose a wine colored gown and hat to match, her bouquet being of yellow roses.

The three-tier wedding cake held the place of honor on the supper table, which was decorated with silver candlesticks and lighted tapers.

After the reception the bride and groom left for their honeymoon, Mrs. Carey traveling in a blue and white flat crepe dress and a black hat. Her coat was of fur-trimmed black velvet. The bride and groom will make their home on Wilson Street.

GIFTS RECEIVED
Among the gifts received was a silver tea service and salts and peppers from the staff of Woolworth, Ltd., where the bride had been employed, while the groom received a cedar chest, two rugs and an electric clock from his fellow employees at the Sidney Rubber Roofing Company. To the bride the groom gave a wrist watch; to the bridesmaid, a pendant, and to the best man, cuff links. The bride's gift to the groom was a silver ring.

MUNICIPALITIES MEET PROVINCE

B.C. Union Executive Will Interview Government
This Morning

Executive members of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities will gather at the Empress Hotel at 9 o'clock this morning, preparatory to meeting the unemployment relief committee of the Cabinet an hour later. The meeting with provincial officials will be held in the office of Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, who has been added to the relief committee, and follows an invitation from the Government for discussion of relief affairs.

Those expected to be present on behalf of the union include Reeve W. A. Pritchard, Burnaby; Mayor David Leeming, Alderman P. R. Brown and Alderman J. A. Worthington, Victoria; Alderman John Bennett and Comptroller A. J. Pilkington, Vancouver; Reeve William Crouch, Saanich, and members of the special relief committee of the union.

Disposition of relief matters in urban centres, with particular reference to men with families or other dependents, is believed to be the object of the meeting. Provincial officials declined to disclose in advance of the conference what plans will be laid before the municipalities, but greater autonomy for these centres is indicated.

It is expected, however, that the Government will disclose definite policies which will govern Federal and provincial aid in urban centres, and may lay down a basic scale for this relief with the principle of allocated expenditures up to a definite monthly limit in each centre. Removal of single men to camps, now proceeding, has furthered the problem somewhat for the municipalities, but much yet remains to be settled.

DRIVE AGAINST SLOT MACHINES

Vancouver Police Starting Campaign to Rid City of Token-Delivering Devices

VANCOUVER, Nov. 17.—Twenty slot machines, of the type which deliver tokens, have been seized by city police in the opening drive of a campaign against the machines operated by token-delivering devices. The drive against the slot machine situation follows presentation of a report to the police last week by Chief C. E. Edgett that 850 such devices, licensed in Vancouver, are earning an average of $30 a week each—a total of nearly $25,000 weekly.

Slot machines are licensed by the city, but redeeming of tokens delivered by the devices is forbidden by law. In the past two months, the number of machines in Vancouver has increased from 177 to 850, and, observers state, there are very few storekeepers who have machines who do not redeem the tokens.

In the past few days, detectives have been quietly investigating the situation, and, as a result, twenty machines are now held at police headquarters. Prosecutions will be instituted.

Official action against punchboards is also being taken. Chief Edgett states that the boards had been nearly eliminated from the city, but are now making an appearance again.

STOCK AUCTIONS NOW INSPECTED

The monthly meeting of the committee of the Victoria branch of the B.C. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held in Room "A," Campbell Building, on Tuesday.

This being the last monthly meeting before the annual general meeting, which will be held on November 22, the audited balance sheet and schedules were laid before the committee.

The inspector reported that the city health department sends a representative to the stock auctions and other establishments where poultry is sold. This has been done at the request of the S.P.C.A. in order to guard against diseased poultry being offered for sale.

Thirty-seven cases were attended and 364 animals and birds inspected during the month.

Cases of cruelty or neglect should be reported to the committee, C. A. Allen, phone, Empire 8351, or to A. R. Sherwood, secretary-treasurer, phone, Empire 7556.

What Today Means to YOU

by MARY BLAKE

"SCORPIO"
If November 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m., and from 6:30 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 11:30 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. and from 7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Influences at work on this November 18 will tend to create an atmosphere of anxiety and doubt; both in the office and at home. People will seem to be on "edge" and much unnecessary and often harmful criticism will be apparent. A more thorough attempt to understand the other person will make of this a happier and pleasanter day.

Children born on this November 18 will bring happiness and joy not only to their parents, but to all those with whom they come in contact. Their genial and happy dispositions, keen sense of humor, and general ability to get along with others will make them well liked by all. Often they are fond of playing practical jokes, but at all times they place for yourself in the community in which you live, and most probably will sit on the town board or city council. You are inclined to be the kind of person who seems to be bursting with civic pride.

You will have many genuine friends who will be glad to fight "to the last ditch" for you. You have a rare sense of values. You enjoy lending a helping hand. You are fond of children and are possessed of that unusual ability to see things as they do. They accept you as an equal, not as a superior. If you are a woman, yours is the home where all the neighbors' children like to gather to enjoy themselves.

"INSULT" OPENS AT EMPIRE TODAY

Story of the French Foreign Legion Unfolded in New Feature Which Will Show Here

One of the most original and most authentic Eastern dances, the famous Siamese Love Dance, is performed by Rance Rama, in "Insult," the picture concerning the French Foreign Legion, which is now showing at the Empire Theatre.

Amid the exotic and colorful surroundings of Morocco, brought to the Paramount British Studios at Elstree, Miss Rama brings the full romance of the East to the screen with the intricate steps and gestures of her hands, which are a feature of the dance. The movement of the hands plays the most important part in the dance, each movement telling of the love story of a Siamese maid during the earliest centuries before civilization in the East.

Miss Rama, who plays the part of an Ouled Nini dancing girl in this picture, and whose Eastern dances have brought her so much fame.

CAPITOL In the vast amphitheatre known as Madison Square Garden, anything can happen. The story of the drama is told in "Madison Square Garden," the film which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

"The Garden" is both the background and the principal actor. It serves as the setting for extraordinarily exciting action, tense drama and delightful comedy. The fine cast includes Jack Oakie, Thomas Meighan, Marion Nison, Zasu Pitts, William Collier, Sr., Warren Hymer, "Hot Saturday," featuring Nancy Carroll and Cary Grant, is also shown.

BEACON WILL HELP FLYERS

Brazilian Government Constructs Light on Lonely South Atlantic Reef

A spectacular engineering feat, carried out in the face of almost insurmountable difficulties and hardships, was recently completed by the Companhia Aca do Brasil, a subsidiary of the Swedish Aca Company, in building a lighthouse for aviation and shipping on a desolate reef a considerable distance off the Brazilian coast.

The work was carried out on the almost inaccessible Island of Penedos de Sao Pedro e Sao Paulo, and it was primarily the need for a navigational aid that led the Brazilian Government to have this lighthouse constructed.

Owing to the great difficulty in landing on the rugged and forbidding rocks, the only possibility was to select an "Aga" beacon, the well-known invention of Dr. C. Dale, a blind Swedish Nobel Prize winner, who lost his sight while experimenting with the accumulation of gas needed for these lighted beacons.

The "Aga" beacons, through an ingenious device called the "sun-valve," function automatically, emerging and withdrawing at daylight and switching on the light at dusk or in a fog without being touched with a human hand for more than a year. When the gas mantle is burnt out it is automatically replaced.

RESERVE BEACON Besides the lighthouse, said to be one of the most powerful in South American waters, a reserve beacon has been built on the same islands and constructed to function should the main light should for some reason get out of order.

A third "Aga" lighthouse intended for the same flying route has been built in the State of Rio Grande do Sul, and the aviators arrive at the coast of Brazil.

The members of the building expedition, when trying to land on the first mentioned island, almost lost their lives. They were met with a floating smell of guano which they were forced to dig away before laying the foundation. The heat was terrible and the men had to live on dried meat, beans and rice for months at a stretch. They got so tired of fish they could no longer bear the sight of it.

In spite of all these difficulties, the lighthouse was at last completed and the event was celebrated by a magnificent display of fireworks that almost scared the feathered inhabitants of the lonely islands off of their nests and attracted thousands of sharks that swarmed around the base of the cliffs.

from that, Mr. Beatty said the railroads are allowed to co-operate with a labour freely without compulsion. Those responsible would then give the problem better consideration.

IMPORTANT FEATURE

It. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Government leader in the Senate, when taking only a brief part in the questioning, expressed the opinion that part three of the bill, which provides for the setting up of an arbitral tribunal, was one of the most important features of the measure.

He would not say, however, that it was impossible to act contrary to the report.

Dealing with a proposal that the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National be united under a single management, Senator Meighen stated that the judgment of the committee up to now was that the country was not ready for it.

The charter of the Canadian Pacific Railway was granted more than fifty years ago, Mr. Beatty said, to implement the terms of the union in 1871. The task one that "the Government had been unwilling or unable to carry out," to provide a transcontinental railway system in Canada, had been submitted to the Canadian Pacific.

PROVISION OF CHARTER

The obligation to maintain and perpetually operate the railway in perpetuity with its administration and provisions in its favor, including the right of administrative control, Mr. Beatty declared.

It was now proposed to take away some of those rights and establish a body that would have the power to interfere with its administration.

If the measure must pass in its present form, Mr. Beatty said, then a guarantee should be given by the Government, over a period of years, assuring the shareholders against financial loss by reason of the changed system of control.

Mr. Beatty repeated his previous statement that great savings could be effected, including the abandonment of 5,000 miles of line. If the two companies were placed under a unified management, if they were to retain their separate identities and separate management, the potential savings he mentioned would be cut practically in half.

NECESSARY TO COMPETE

There could be no successful co-operation while the necessity for competition arose, he said. While the two struggled for a separate existence there must be a measure of competition. In ordering that the Mr. Beatty said, the railways are being asked to co-operate and compete at the same time.

If their efforts at co-operation

BEACON WILL HELP FLYERS

Brazilian Government Constructs Light on Lonely South Atlantic Reef

A spectacular engineering feat, carried out in the face of almost insurmountable difficulties and hardships, was recently completed by the Companhia Aca do Brasil, a subsidiary of the Swedish Aca Company, in building a lighthouse for aviation and shipping on a desolate reef a considerable distance off the Brazilian coast.

The work was carried out on the almost inaccessible Island of Penedos de Sao Pedro e Sao Paulo, and it was primarily the need for a navigational aid that led the Brazilian Government to have this lighthouse constructed.

Owing to the great difficulty in landing on the rugged and forbidding rocks, the only possibility was to select an "Aga" beacon, the well-known invention of Dr. C. Dale, a blind Swedish Nobel Prize winner, who lost his sight while experimenting with the accumulation of gas needed for these lighted beacons.

The "Aga" beacons, through an ingenious device called the "sun-valve," function automatically, emerging and withdrawing at daylight and switching on the light at dusk or in a fog without being touched with a human hand for more than a year. When the gas mantle is burnt out it is automatically replaced.

RESERVE BEACON Besides the lighthouse, said to be one of the most powerful in South American waters, a reserve beacon has been built on the same islands and constructed to function should the main light should for some reason get out of order.

A third "Aga" lighthouse intended for the same flying route has been built in the State of Rio Grande do Sul, and the aviators arrive at the coast of Brazil.

The members of the building expedition, when trying to land on the first mentioned island, almost lost their lives. They were met with a floating smell of guano which they were forced to dig away before laying the foundation. # CANADIENS, HAWKS AND AMERICANS SCORE WINS

Arsenal Will Meet Aston Villa XI in O.C. Soccer Feature

Record Crowd of 74,000 Expected to Witness Main Match in English Football Tomorrow—Two Other Important Contests Billed

LONDON, Nov. 17 (CP).—With the Londoners' United playing at Arsenal and Aston Villa in a match overshadowing all other week-end soccer fixtures, interest in the game has been raised to "cup final heat," and a record crowd of 74,000 is expected to attend.

Defeat of the Gunners would return the Villans to leadership on a goal average basis, although they would still be tied on points. In London the Gunners are favored to win, their supporters pointing out they have not lost a game since they bowed to West Bromwich Albion, August 31.

Both outfields report their players in perfect condition, and both will field their regular line-ups. They have been training at the seaside, the Gunners at Brighton and the Villans at Rhyl. Already all reserved seats for the game have been sold.

Two other First Division games Saturday shape up as stirring battles. Leeds United are playing at Portsmouth and West Bromwich Albion journey to Huddersfield. All four teams are within seven points of the leading Arsenal outfit in the standings.

Derby County, in third place, should have little trouble in disposing of Liverpool, who have won only four games.

Leaders in the English League, Second Division, stack up against teams they should easily defeat. Stoke City plays West Ham United. Bradford battles Grimsby and Bury takes on Nottingham Forest. The fourth-place Fulham outfit have a harder battle on their hands when they travel to Manchester to play with the Red Devils.

Brentford, leaders of the Third Division, Southern Section, are given an opportunity to continue their string of wins when they meet Cardiff City Saturday. Brentford have won twelve games and tied two, without a loss this season.

BRENTENA AND GARDINER TO SHOW TONIGHT

Middleweights to Feature Card at Pacific Stadium—Novak Faces Asby

Bull Brentena, Chicago middleweight, will step through the ropes for his return "grudge" bout with Joe Gardiner, San Francisco, in the eight ten-minute-round feature event on Promoter "Winnipeg" Chilton's weekly wrestling card this evening, at the Pacific Stadium. For the five-round semi-wind-up, Bobby Novak, Denver, and Spike Asby, New York, have been signed by the local matchmaker, while Bruce Lowe and Lloyd Fenlon, two local lads, will appear in the preliminary match at 8:45 o'clock.

Brentena and Gardiner were matched last week, with the former coming through to the verdict after a fine exhibition. Gardiner thought that his opponent was lucky to win, and therefore made arrangements for a return mix with the purse going to the victor. The Chicago matman took the bout with two falls out of three. Both are fast, clever and know the game, and are expected to furnish the ringers with plenty of action from the start.

The lads in the semi will be making their first appearance, but advance information indicates that both are coming here with fine reputations. Novak and Asby have been appearing in other theatrical cities during the past month, and are welterweights.

DEATH RIDES OVER FIELDS OF U.S. GAME

List of Tragedies in American Football Behind Total of Last Season

MANY STARS ARE FORCED FROM GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP).—Although injuries and death on United States football fields this fall have trailed miserably behind the awesome totals of 1931, there seems never to be a season in modern pickin' history where severe hurts struck so consistently at the outstanding players of the game.

Out of a list of a dozen stars badly hurt, "Fog" Rensler, of Northwestern, already had gained All-America fame, and at least two others, Orville Mohler of Southern California, and Ed King of Army, were outstanding possibilities for this year's mythical eleven.

Rensler, hailed by no less an authority than "Red" Grange as the greatest college back he ever saw, came suddenly to the end of his college football career Saturday, when he suffered two broken ribs against Notre Dame.

Mohler, Southern California's brilliant quarterback, was an even more serious casualty, being forced out of competition in his last and what promised to be his greatest year, by a neck injury suffered against Stanford, October 22. Doctors decided the sensational ball carrier would be risking death if he were to play again with the vertebrae in his neck in such a weakened condition.

King, Army's great end, was considered the best wingman in the United States, and an almost certain All-America choice, when he fractured a leg against Harvard.

But aside from these stalwarts, the toll of men who seemed certain for sectional, if not national honors, has been equally great.

HOLLYWOOD CLUB HAS POOR YEAR

Coast League Nine Loses Fifty Per Cent of Receipts During Past Season

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 17 (AP).—Stockholders of the Hollywood Pacific Coast League Baseball Club were told at their annual meeting here that the attendance at the club's games during the 1932 season dropped 50 per cent below that of 1931 and that operation costs this season exceeded receipts by approximately $52,000.

In reporting to the stockholders of the club, a Utah corporation, H. H. Lane, president, said: "I can't see where we are going to be any better off next year, or for that matter, for the next two years."

Opposition to continuance of night baseball was expressed by Lane. The club favors night baseball one or two nights a week. The contention is that since the novelty of night playing has worn off, a decrease in attendance has resulted. It was announced that Oscar Vitt has agreed to manage the club again next year, his ninth season as boss.

Will Be Seen in Action Tomorrow

Albert Kirkbride Stars as Juniors Battle in School Rugby League

Two well-deserved tries by Albert Kirkbride and two conversions by Jack Oke gave the Cowichan Rugby fifteen of the Victoria High School a 10-0 victory over the Matrics in an inter-year fixture played yesterday on the school Rugby pitch.

Ritchie, flashy backfield man for the Matrics, accounted for their score by virtue of his kicking. The Cowichans go into a tie for first place with the first-year entry in the league.

The game opened with a stiff breeze blowing against the Matrics. From the kick-off the ball veered into the hands of the Cowichans, who were unsuccessful. Lorne Ritchie connected with a pretty kick to put the ball back in Cowichan territory. Price, Ritchie, Fraser and Thomas joined forces in the pre-emptive three-quarter run of the year. The ball was kicked back to the Matrics, who found the angle too deep for conversion.

LEAFS SUFFER 3-1 DEFEAT AT HANDS OF CHICAGO TEAM

Stanley Cupholders Taken for First Ride of Season by Hawks Machine—New York Aggregation Takes Measure of Boston, 4-2—Flying Frenchmen Capture 1-0 Verdict

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP).—The world hockey champion Toronto Maple Leafs lost their first match of the new season tonight, dropping a 3 to 1 decision to the Chicago Black Hawks at the Coliseum.

The battle was just one goal closer than the score, the final Hawks score being accomplished while the Leafs, in a desperate attempt to tie it up in the third period, were using a five-man offense. MacFayden and Cook slipped through and it was easy for the former, playing his first National League match, to slash the puck past Lorne Chabot.

The Leafs scored their first two goals in the second period on the Hawks skated hard and well all the way, but some loose passing and unlucky shooting helped the Hawks. Just nicely into the final period, Andy Blair picked the puck out of a melee behind the Hawk netting, passed out to Lon Gracie, who feinted Gardiner to his left, then blazed the puck into the cage for Toronto's lone tally.

The Leafs were on the offensive during most of the last frame and managed to do everything except score.

Chuck Gardiner turned in a fine exhibition of goaltending, and had a lot of help from an effective pair of defense combinations. Gardiner had thirty-eight saves to twenty-nine for Chabot.

The match was watched by about 3,000 spectators.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE LEADERS TO CLASH WITH POWERFUL FOE IN ST. JOHNSTONE

GLASGOW, Nov. 17 (CP).—Rangers meeting with St. Johnstone tonight provides the only bright spot on a Saturday's schedule that should see leaders in the Scottish League, First Division, sweep through to easy victories. Although St. Johnstone, only four points behind the leading Rangers, has lost to the latter's same ground, they are accorded a good chance to upset Rangers.

Celtic and Aberdeen, tied for second place, should have an easier afternoon of work and chance to creep up on Rangers if the latter should falter. Both are playing at home.

Morton, Motherwell and St. Mirren, tied for third place, also should have an easier afternoon, although all three are playing away. Hearts are playing at home.

The Amers, by clever passing and persistent and expert backchecking, managed to offset the superior weight and power of their rivals. They never ceased to give on their defense and they gave up a Boston player a good shot.

The homesters gave the wildly enthused Madison Square Garden crowd plenty to shout themselves hoarse about right in the first period when Normie Himes and Filmore shot them into a two-goal lead they never relinquished.

NO DECISION IN MAT BOUT

Double Foul Is Result of Wrestling Mix at Portland Between They and Reilly

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17 (AP).—Vern Harrington, referee, refused to name a winner when Ted They, of Portland, and Pat Reilly, of Boston, main events in last night's wrestling card here, climaxed their efforts with what fans hailed as a new one for the books—a double foul.

After Reilly took the first fall in ten minutes with a flying tackle, abetted by an upstart to the chin, and They had registered the second tumble in seventeen minutes with a series of shoulder butts, the two went after the third fall with everything but wrestling holds.

When They dropped his opponent with a right-hand smash to the stomach, Harrington reached down and raised Reilly's hand in token of victory. Then the Boston Irishman hung one on They's chin. Harrington raised They's arm. A scuffle between the muscle thumpers ensued, and when Harrington separated them, he declared the match no contest.

Bob Miller, 262 pounds, Chicago, knocked Jack Callaghan, 184, Portland, cold with an airplane spin in the third round of a scheduled five-round special event.

SCOTTISH STRONG

The Scottish showed last week that they have the makings of a good team, but they need a little more practice with their eight outsiders before they develop a real scoring punch. In the game against the Fifth, men were being missed out in the passing movements and there was too much crowding of the wings. The troops have a hard-running, hard-tackling bunch, however, and a fast pack of forwards who back and follow up well, and the game should prove interesting.

In the Navy-Gunners clash, the sailors will have the advantage in weight in the forwards, and their backfield is fast and tricky. The Fifth, however, showed last week that they are a hard team to beat.

Fast Three-Quarter for J.B.A.A.

and a close struggle is indicated. The game will be played at the Navy ground at Admirals Road and will start at 3 o'clock.

In the intermediate section, the Fifth and Scottish play at the second ground at Oak Bay Park, while the Wanderers journey to Mount Toimile to play the University School. Some promising youngsters are being brought up by the clubs and the standard of Rugby in last week's games was good. Wanderers came through with a win over the Scottish while Victoria College beat the Fifth. This week the College has a bye in the league, but will play a friendly game against Nanaimo at the Willows, starting at 1:45 o'clock. All other games start at 3 o'clock.

SENIOR "B" GAMES
Three senior "B" matches are carded for Saturday and some good games are expected. Oak Bay fans will see the Scottish and J.B.A.A. battle at Oak Bay Park on the main ground. At Work Point Barracks, the Garrison and Fifth will stage a battle of the troops, while at the Victoria High School, Victoria College meet the Navy. Last week several of the clubs were depleted by illness, but it is hoped to have a full turnout tomorrow. All games start at 3 o'clock sharp.

The French-Canadian pair, however, were still in a tie for first place in mileage, sharing the lead with Reggie McNamara and his partner, Al Crossley, of New Bedford.

The standings at 10 p.m.

A—I say, old chap, what's the difference between "abstract" and "concrete"?

B—Well, when my wife promises to make a cake, that's abstract; when she makes one, it's concrete.

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "but not necessarily with all the answers."

BRITISH SPORT SHOTS
By WILLIS ENTWISTLE

There was a remarkable gathering recently at the Savoy Hotel, London, aptly described by Lord Burghley as the most representative assembly of British sportsmen that had ever sat at the luncheon table.

It was a "Welcome Home" luncheon given to the members of the British Olympic team by the British Sportsman's Club. Lord Desborough, one of the greatest sportsmen of all time, was chairman, and the majority of the 200 guests have made their mark in one or more sports.

Sir Harold Bowden, chairman of the British Olympic Council, the other officials who went out with the team, and competitors attended. Lord Decies, chairman of the British Sportsman's Club, members of the committee of that organization, including Earl Howe, Lord Aberdare, and Admiral Hugh Watson, and many other celebrities were present.

Lord Desborough, proposing "The British Olympic Team," referred to some of the early Olympiads, and particularly that of London in 1908, when Great Britain finished at the head of the results table with a large margin of points.

His lordship said that if it results really mattered, and he looked at that, he did not think Britain would occupy a high place in the final table of future Olympiads unless the homeland improved its athletics.

That branch of athletics had never really caught on in England, he said, but Britain must get down to it, and must see to it that by expert tuition and coaching the Old Country becomes more efficient in them.

What could be done in a comparatively short time had been shown by Japan, who were expected in a few years to beat all other countries at the branches of sport in which the athletes of that country were now specializing.

Lord Burghley, captain of the team, in reply, was severe on those who, without knowledge, had written destructive criticism about the games, and he emphasized that criticism, to be of any value, should not be merely destructive.

A warm tribute was paid to the United States for the splendid manner in which the Los Angeles Games were organized.

His lordship was emphatic that it would have been a national calamity if Britain had not been represented at the Games. It would have given point to the statements so often made that the Old Land had lost its athletic skill.

With regard to the charge against Great Britain that she did not do well, Lord Burghley showed that in the matter of track athletics, taking the whole system of scoring—there was no official table of points in these days—the United States would have been first with 95 points, and Great Britain second, with 47.

The largest number of brothers to have played in league football for one club during post-war years is four. They are Frank, Harold, Joseph and Thomas Keetley, all having played league football with Doncaster Rovers.

There have only been two instances since the war of brothers each having scored a century of goals in league football, but this season will probably bring a third. John and Donald Cock did so, also David and George McLean.

Tom Keetley, of North County, has done so, and his brother, Charles, of Leeds United, needs eight league goals to complete a hundred.

It will be noticed there are five Keetley brothers and all professional footballers, but Charlie dodged Doncaster.

Firdausi's triumph in the St. Leger gave the Aga Khan his fifth classic success since he first registered his popular sika in England ten years ago. He won the Derby with Blenheim (1920), and twice had the runner-up, Zlonia (1923) and Dastur (1932). Udaipur (1932) triumphed for him in the Oaks.

To Play Tomorrow for Oarsmen

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—The largest two heavyweights in the boxing business—Primo Carnera and Jose Santa—will launch themselves upon each other tomorrow night in a ten-round match in Madison Square Garden.

For the first time in his rambling career, the Italian gondola man must make physical concessions to an opponent. Santa, discovered in Portugal after Carnera started the craze for super-sized gladiators, is six feet eight inches tall.

Carnera stands a mere six feet, six and one-half inches, but he makes up this disadvantage by out-weighting the Portuguese, 260 pounds to 251. Otherwise their fantastic measurements are almost the same, including items such as eighty-four inches of reach for Carnera and eighty-three and a half for Santa.

Santa has been thumped around considerably and his crowning achievement was a six-round knockout of Hansa Birkie, the durable German. Carnera, who fought his best engagement in knocking out Victorio Campolo in two rounds in the Garden two years ago, has done little since Jack Sharkey walloped him in the Summer of 1931.

Carnera is a favorite to win early by a knockout.

Smoky Harris Is Signed by Tigers in Western Loop

CALGARY, Nov. 17 (CP).—"Smoky" Harris, product of Winnipeg amateur ranks, was signed today to play with Calgary Tigers in the reorganized Western Canada Professional Hockey League. Harris is a brother of the veteran "Smoky" who starred in the defunct Pacific Coast League.

The signing of Harris brings to seven the players obtained by the Tigers for the opening of the new league, December 5. A colorful left winger, Harris was a star in senior amateur ranks in Winnipeg before joining Seattle in the old Pacific Coast circuit.

He played for Seattle for three years, after which he was sold to Boston Bruins in a deal that included a good cash price and Goalie Hal Winkler.

DISPLAY AND RALLY BY NANAIMO SCOUTS

NANAIMO, Nov. 17.—In the Scout Hut on Comox Road an interesting event took place last evening, when the 1st and 2nd Nanaimo Packs and 1st Five Acres held a rally and display.

The events were in charge of Scoutmaster Wheeler, who judged in a fair manner. The winners were: 1st, Five Acres Pack, under Miss Mary Carpenter; 2nd, Nanaimo, under Miss Ruth Foster, and 3rd, 1st Nanaimo, under Miss Annie Bell.

The events took place as follows: Inspection, skipping race, obstacle race, shoe race and other games. Another such night will be held soon.

Stock and Bond Prices Drop at New York Mart

Wheat Prices Slip One Cent

Stock Prices Drift To Lower Levels at Eastern Exchanges

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP).—Stocks gave up a little more ground today, although they held much better than grains. Volume was the smallest in a fortnight and activity so substantially professional that the minor fluctuations appeared to represent only the "in and out" transactions of floor traders.

Foreign angles to the news received more attention. Sterling had a sharp reaction and German bonds dipped when resignation of the Von Papen Government was announced. Net losses in shares were almost entirely fractional. U.S. Steel, American Can, Bethlehem, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Anaconda, National Biscuit, American Tobacco, "B" North American, Western Union, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Santa Fe averaged 1-2 point losses. Losses of around a point appeared in Westinghouse, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Lackawanna. Sales totaled 700,000.

To what extent sterling's weakness was due to trading by professionals in the foreign exchange market was impossible to determine. It was assumed, however, the possibility of "no concession" by Congress on the December 15 payment had something to do with the break. United States Government issues and other high-grade loans displayed firming tendencies today, but the remainder of the bond market drifted lower in extremely listless trading.

Sales totaled only $7,000,000, par value, and the Associated Press Standard Statistics average for sixty domestic corporate bonds rose three-tenths of a point.

German loans dropped fractions to around two points. Japanese bonds were heavy, reflecting the budgetary troubles of the Far East. Empire. Obligations of Great Britain eased, along with those of Australia, Argentina, Italy, Norway and Uruguay.

American Telephones advanced moderately, as did Grand Trunk of Canada. Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway securities were off from 1 to 2 points, while losses of a point or more were recorded by some other issues. Utility and industrial casualties of around a point were suffered by issues of American and Foreign Power, Colson Oil, International Telephone, Kellogg Corp., North American Edison, Philadelphia Reading Coal & Iron, Potlatch General Electric, Postal Telegraph and Warner Bros.

STATION L-O-V-E BY CRAIG CARROLL

CHAPTER XX

Judy smiled at Dick. "I'd like to feel I didn't have to impose on you any more," she said. "You've done so much more for me already than you ought to have done, Dick. Don't worry about announcing me. Don't you understand?"

"Yes," Dick said slowly. "I understand, Judy. But—impose—"

"I didn't mean that, Dick. When I try to talk I always get the wrong words. I just meant I don't think it's fair to worry you any longer when you've so much on your mind already."

Having said that, she could have bitten off her tongue. For the dark flush showed on Dick's face again; the flush that said, "I made a mistake. I told you a secret I'd kept from everybody. And now you keep feeling sorry for me about it."

Men love to have women feel sorry for them, Judy's mother had said; but Judy revised that rule. Men don't want a woman to show she is sorry for them; they want to feel she is hiding her pity. A great difference that some women never learn, and yet Judy was sure it was right.

"Well," she attempted now. "What's next on your schedule, Dick?"

"Oh—a dramatic show. David Owen is doing it. Smart director. He stages 'Sippy,' too. I—Hello, Harlow."

A tall, dark-haired man said. "Hello, Dick," and went on into one of the studios. Judy's eyes looked questions, and Dick, glad to talk of something new, answered. "Harlow Wilcox, one of the best announcers in the business. Does all kinds of programmes. You ought to see his fan mail."

"Oh, I've heard of him, of course. He's good."

"Yes."

Dick had none of the jealousy the stories had taught Judy you must expect from actors. But, then, she remembered, he had insisted he wasn't an actor, really.

Down the hall came a tall man, running headlong, tugging to open a violin case as he ran. Perspiration streamed from his face, his breath came jerkily, he tumbled past them, shot through a door, disappeared. Dick laughed.

"He was due on the air exactly two seconds ago," he said. "And he's got to stand up in front of the microphone and play something soft and lazy, maybe 'Meditation.' Probably ran all the way from the taxi. Nice assignment, playing a violin when you're so out of breath you can barely stand."

"Something New, Dick?"

Judy giggled. "Do many of them miss programmes?" she asked.

"Not very often. Lots of times they just get under the wire. I've had to ad lib a lot of times, though, filling time until the guest star showed up."

"Ad lib?"

"Keep talking without having anything to talk about. Nobody's supposed to ad lib on the air, except the Three Doctors, that is. But both of us have to. You know the Three Doctors always ad lib. Never have a script. Never know exactly what they're going to say on a programme."

"Oh!" Judy, thinking of the terrible microphone, of the fright that raced through her veins such a little while before, gasped at the poise and confidence of men who could go on the air without having every word written and ready. "How can they do it, Dick?"

"Good show," Elton went on. "Judy, but most of them don't. One night I introduced a famous actor, who'd been on the stage ever since 1851, and yet the first time he went on the radio—doing a scene he's done thousands of times on the stage—he went absolutely cold. Couldn't say a word. Just gasped and choked and shivered. Scared to death."

"And what happened?"

"I asked questions and answered them myself until time was up. And then got a lot of letters telling me what a conceited fool I was for talking when a really great man was supposed to be on the air."

"Of course not, Judy. You mustn't talk back to people. When you're on the air you're working for them. They've got a right to tell you how awful you are as often as they feel like it."

"Oh! And maybe I'll get letters like that?"

"Maybe, Judy. But I don't think that'll tell the story. And—well, until then—"

He glanced at the clock.

"Now," Judy said quickly. "I've got to go. I promised to meet Elsie for lunch."

"Oh!" Disappointed. Hurt a little.

"Well," he said. "I'll stay here, then. Got to work on an idea, anyhow."

"Something new, Dick?"

He grinned. "Can't tell you a thing, Judy. Only, half the programme writers in the business are ex-saxophone players or ex-announcers. Never wrote a thing in their lives till radio came along. And if they can do it, maybe I can, too. Anyhow, I'm trying something."

"You're writing?"

"The jury's still out, Judy."

"Won't you let me see?"

"No. Can't."

"But—"

He nodded past her. "Friend of ours coming," he said softly.

"Good show," Elton went on. "Very good. Heard it up in my office. Client heard it, too. Just phoned me. Says it's fine. If the mail comes—if it comes—"

Repetition of that phrase made Judy wonder.

"Is the mail so important?" she asked.

"Tell her, Dick," Elton suggested suavely. "Tell her about the mail."

Dick said only: "Well, mail is the way the client tests a programme."

But Elton added: "You see, we all know mail doesn't mean a thing. There are some people who'll always write for you, no matter what sample. All right. Never tell a client that. He believes if he gets a lot of mail it's a riot, and if the mail isn't big it never occurs to him his sample is no good; he just decides the programme is to blame. So the mail boy's a big shot around here. So, Dick?"

"Yes," Dick said curtly. "Going, Judy?"

"Yes, Dick."

Day smiled casually.

"I have some points in the programme to talk to Miss Allison about," Dick said. "Better wait a couple of minutes, Judy. Unless I'm interrupting something."

"Of course not," Judy said quickly. "Dick, I'll see you at the house this evening."

"Yes," he said, not looking at her. Jealous! But why should he be. Judy wondered. He ought to know how she felt. Ought to know what she thought of Elton Day. But men forget. And Dick walked away, quickly, leaving Judy with Day.

Leaving her to hear him say, very softly: "Too bad our lady listeners can't see you, Judy. They'd never get over it if they could."

"Thank you."

"Oh, don't thank me. Don't thank anybody. Just be glad about it."

"You wanted to tell me something about the programme?"

"No."

"But you said—"

He waved a deprecating hand.

"Never can tell what a Day will say. Old family custom. Say what pops into the mind. If it doesn't pop, say it anyhow. Get the old words going and people go away and then everything's simple."

She nodded. "Yes. You've said so before, haven't you?"

"Many times," he agreed calmly. "Always say something like that to get the conversation started. And then when the lady is angry—"

"But the lady isn't angry."

"That's a coast."

"The lady isn't angry," Judy repeated as she walked past Elton Day. "She's merely bored. Good-bye, Mr. Day."

She left him. And did not look back to see on Elton Day's face an expression that was not usual for him. A look of sorrow, almost. As if Elton Day wished, for the moment only, that Elton Day were not what he always had been.

The mail came. Letters in pink envelopes, and letters in square, white envelopes, and letters wrapped with pencil on brown wrapping paper stuck into envelopes painfully made at home. Letters asking the Beauty Builder for help. Letters telling strange, pitiful stories with naive abandonment of reticence, with complete confidence in the Beauty Builder that made Judy suddenly ashamed and a little afraid.

"My husband is going to leave me, because he says I'm getting old and ugly. I've tried. But there's so much work to do and I've no money and I spend what I have on the children instead of buying things for myself. And—"

Please tell me what to do. Please."

Letters like that. Letters that Elton Day displayed amusedly, holding them in his hand, shuffling them with his thin hand. "Mine, apolla," he announced. "South Bend, Joplin, Kansas City, Sioux City, Milwaukee, St. Paul. All points West."

"Who answers them?" Judy asked.

"Some correspondent."

"But shouldn't—"

"You shouldn't do anything but talk. That's where your job begins and ends," he said. "Let somebody else worry about the rest of it."

"But they're supposed to get personal answers."

"They will."

"From a correspondent?"

"From me, Judy. Don't I know the answers to all the little problems of life? Of course I do. Judy. All the answers. All the questions, too."

Burgess Bedtime Stories

When a Nose Was Useless

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

It sometimes seems 'tis vain to try
On any one thing to rely.

—Reddy Fox.

Reddy Fox, at first puzzled by the extra shy way in which Mrs. Lightfoot had approached a certain pool of the Laughing Brook for a drink, had finally made a shrewd guess that it was because she had babies hidden not far away.

"Let me see," muttered Reddy, "this is just about the time of year that Mrs. Lightfoot would be likely to have babies. My, my, how I would like to find one of them before it is big enough to run. What a dinner that would be! Just thinking of it makes my mouth water. But I don't want Mrs. Lightfoot to catch me at it. No, siree, I don't want anything like that to happen."

"If those fawns are not yet strong enough to follow their mother it is a safe guess that she never goes very far from them. That means that this is the reason that she comes to this pool for water instead of going to her usual drinking place. So of course those babies are not far away. I ought to be able to find them. I should be able to depend on my nose to find the little rascals."

He made his way around to where Mrs. Lightfoot had been drinking and had no trouble at all in finding her trail. With his nose he cautiously followed it. Presently he discovered Mrs. Lightfoot just ahead of him. She was feeding on certain grasses and plants of which she is very fond. She would put her head down and as soon as she had secured a mouthful throw her head up again the better to keep watch. Reddy at once saw that she was alone. They were no dainty little fawns with her, no beautiful spotted babies. Yet Mrs. Lightfoot appeared as nervous as if there had been.

"Hidden and told to keep perfectly still," thought Reddy.

"Hidden and told to keep perfectly still," thought Reddy. "They won't move, so eyes and ears will be of no help to me in finding them," he continued. "It all depends on my nose."

He took the greatest care to always keep Mrs. Lightfoot up wind. That is the wind always blew from her to him. He never got where it would blow from him to her. So at no time could she get his scent. As he took great care to keep out of her sight, she did not know that he was about.

So, never for one instant failing to keep track of Mrs. Lightfoot, where she was and what she was doing, Reddy began a patient search for the baby deer he felt sure were somewhere near. He poked that inquiring black nose of his into every little patch of brush, under every little low-growing tree about there, behind every log and stump. He took his time about it. He smelled long and carefully. Not once did his nose catch the faintest scent of baby deer.

Mrs. Lightfoot presently lay down. She was still vigilant and watchful, but she seemed quite at her ease also. Reddy marked well the place where she was lying. Those fawns are sure to be somewhere near her," thought he. "She wouldn't lie down far from them. I'll just wait until she gets up and moves away, then I'll have a good look all around there."

So Reddy waited, not guessing Mrs. Lightfoot really was quite a distance from her precious babies. She was where she could watch the place where they were hiding, but so far from it that should an enemy appear she could bound away without arousing any suspicion that she had a precious, a very precious secret.

When she at last did move on Reddy hastily but thoroughly searched all around where she had been resting. He found not so much as a single whiff of fawn scent. That reliable nose of his was failing him. He could no longer depend on it. In fact, it was useless. How useless it was you may judge from the fact that while poking that nose under some bushes he almost touched a baby deer lying stretched out as still as death itself. Still that keen little black nose of Reddy's didn't find it. You see there was no odor, no scent at all. So really it wasn't the fault of Reddy's nose that he failed to find those baby deer.

FEDERAL ACTION IS UNDER FIRE

Criticism of Federal authorities in using foreign-made tools for construction work for Doukhobors at Pier Island, and at the same time supporting the national "Buy British" campaign, was voiced by members of the Trades and Labor Council at their meeting on Wednesday night.

Canadian carpenters are using United States screwdrivers, German hammers and Swedish reversible bits, one delegate told the council, producing samples to substantiate his statements.

In sharp contrast to this, attention was drawn to the advertisement appearing over the name of Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, urging Canadians to buy in Canada and Britain. The secretary was instructed to write the minister regarding the advertisement and the use of these materials.
